Northern Kentucky Views Presents:

From George W. Hawes'

Kentucky State Gazetteer and Business Directory

for 1859 and 1860

COVINGTON,

A flourishing post city of Kenton county, situated on the west side of Licking on the Ohio river opposite Cincinnati, 60 miles north north-east from Frankfort.

It is built on a beautiful plain several miles in extent, and regularly laid out in accordance with the plan of Cincinnati, of which it may be considered a suburb. It is connected with Lexington and Frankfort by railroad, and contains some twelve or fifteen churches, several banks, two female acadamies, the western theological college, a richly endowed and flourishing institution under the direction of the Baptists, two weekly newspapers and a large number of mercantile and manufacturing establishments of various kinds. Population about 14,000.
